

Elevation is more common in high-risk areas, but rare in both groups

Low and high groups split the positive-loss distribution at its median

